

RETURN TO SENDER

I wrote a letter this morning,
Sent it special D
Adressed to Toronto
It said -- You'd better listen to me.

I wrote upon it.

Return to sender
That address unknown
Don't want your trash here,
So keep it home.

No need to quarrel,
No need to have a spat.
But if Canada sends us its trash,
We'll just send it back.

Send us bacon and hockey,
Beer and curling, too,
But if you send us your garbage,
We'll send it right back to you.

And write upon it,

Return to sender
That address unknown
Don't want your trash here,
So keep it home.

No need to quarrel,
No need to have a spat.
But if Canada sends us its trash,
We'll just send it back.

Now Toronto, don't worry
Here's what you need to do.
Reduce reuse and recycle.
That's our advice to you.

Return to sender, etc.
